++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Severe gales gradually easing, but feeling very cold today.

Today:
A very windy start, with severe gales, especially for Cornwall and north Devon. Remaining windy into the afternoon, but the strongest gusts abating somewhat. Plenty of showers, wintry at times, these becoming confined to west Cornwall later. Feeling very cold. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Tonight:
Some showers persisting across west Cornwall, otherwise a lot of dry, clear weather to be had. Winds will continue to ease, with a widespread frost developing inland. Minimum temperature -3 deg C (27 deg F).

Sunday:
Still some showers running into parts of Cornwall, otherwise after a frosty start, a dry day with lots of sunshine. Lighter winds than of late, but still cold. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Cloudy but mostly dry on Monday. Windier again by Tuesday with outbreaks of rain or drizzle, but also feeling a bit milder. Blustery and showery on Wednesday.
